TRAMEL CONN, Ch'n.

Execution of Three Murderers [From the N. O. Picayune, March 18.] This morning, Heinrich Haas, Joseph Lindsay and Peter Smith, all three convicted of murder, suffered the penalty of death by hanging. At au early bour a large crowd hesieged the gates of the Parish Prison, uagerly seeking to obtain a sight of the terrible spectacle. This morhid craving was not, however, satisfied, and none could obtain policenica, officials, etc., were let in the inne yard, where the gallows had been erected The dreaded machine was very simple pearance; at the end of the first story stood a small platform, or trap door, fixed to the wall by hinges, and suspended by two ropes which passed overhead through the great window of the cell behind. A rough hench, ron rings at their ends, dangled the three ropes erminating with the fatal noose. Shortly after ten o'clock the three condemned men appeared, escorted by the Rev. Father Dufau and his assistant, and officers of the prison. They were dressed in white, in their shirts and pants, the head covered with a white night cap, and their hands tied hehind their hacks; each wore a cru cifix suspended to a black ribbon around his neck heir countenances were calm, even smiling. They took their seat on the fatal bench, and the langman, a negro, disguised with a loose black domino and a mask, fixed the ropes around their oked by emotion, the death warrant signed by the Governor, Lindsay, who is quite a young man, first spoke and addressed the crowd with a clear and ringing voice. He acknowledged his crime, said the penalty was but just; he had sinned against the laws of his country and the laws of his God, and he must die; hut he blessed that death for he was reconciled with his God; he Capt. Fremeaux, Mr. Revoil, and the under keep ers of the prison, for their kindness to him; he aid every one good-hye, and hoped his example would not be lost.

Peter Smith spoke next, in nearly the same terms, but struggling with his emotion. Heinrich Haas, the oldest man of the three, was the last to apeak. His features were lit with a spiritnal enpeak. His features were lit with a spiritnal en-usiasm, as in a loud and clear voice, he addressed the attentive crowd. He said that drink was not the only incentive to crime, that every sinful appetite indulged in brought man by degrees to the worst crinies, and finally to the gallows. His ruin was caused by the sin of impurity; he warned all men to restrain and subdue their passions and not to deface the image of God. He was going to die of an awful death, and yet that death was not one thousand part what his crimes deserved. He was a great sinner, but as great as were his crimes, the goodness and mercy of his Saviour were greater, and that Saviour had pardoned him.—

He died with joy, he was happy, and preferred that death to life on this earth. He spoke long and feelingly, and after bidding farewell to the people, began chaunting a hymn with mncb fer-vor. While he spoke and sung, his two companions seemed to find new courage in his enthusias-tic words, and preserved a perfect composure.

The Rev. Father Dufan spoke a few parting words to each, and presented them the crucifix, which they kissed repeatedly. Young Lindsay burst out in an act of contrition, repeated by the wo others, and was kissed on the cheek by Fath er Dnfau, who recited aloud an exortation, and gave his hlessing to the three doomed men. The priest retired on the gallery. The hangman ap-peared, drew the cap over their faces and hid hem good-hye, and disappeared. Another fare well from the three unfortunates, to their friends, a silent panse, and suddenly the trap door fell from heneath their feet, and three souls were unched into eternity.

Lindeay and Smith died instantly, having had their necks broken, and a slight quiver of the frame was all that denotad the passage from life to death; but poor Haas suffered longer; the to death; but poor Haas suffered longer; the moose had not been made tight enough, and strangulation took place slowly. His legs moved convulsively, his whole frame shook, and the blood rushed into his face, soon blackened it and trickled out of his ear. We left the poor man still strnggling-a sight too painful to behold.

Readers will recollect the desperate attempt of Anna Maria Bosley, a negress in New York, to murder her mother in order to obtain a few dollars and give them to a negro named Elijah Martin. She has just pleaded guilty and been sentenced to the State Prison for three years and six months. Martin, who incited her to the attempt, has been convicted and sentenced to ten years. The Arrival of Italian Refugees in Cork—Interesting Particulars.

We announced the arrival in Queenatown, on Sunday, March 6, of the American ship David Stewart, having on board Poerio and his companions, whom the Neapolitan Government had set free from the dungeons of that State. It will be remembered that, though pardoned, they were sentenced to hamshment, and that after having been deported from their native country to Spain, it was afterwards determined that they should be sent to America. Accordingly, the David Stewart was chartered to take them from Cadiz to New York, where, upon landing, each wasto receive a sum of $120, and be released from all further control. They had been brought from Naples to Cadiz in a Neapolitan transport, from which, after about three weeks, they were the Laminer we copy the following particulars:

"All the party having been put on board at Cadiz, the Daniel Stewart was towed out to sea for a distance of nearly 200 miles, by a Neapolitan war steamer. The steamer then cast off, and left the ship with a fair wind from the east. Scarcely, however, was the ship well away from the pro-

tance of nearly 200 miles, by a Neapolitan war steamer. The steamer then cast off, and left the ship with a fair wind from the east. Scarcely, however, was the ship well away from the protection of the steamer's gnus, than the exiles, in a body, came to the captain, delivered to him a protest against being carried to New York, and called upon him to make for the first port he could reach in England. The captain, one-third of whose freight had been retained as a guarantee for the performance of his contract, remonstrated with their demand to have him hreak his angagement, and ultimately refused. They appeared to acquiesce in his decision, or, at least, pressed their demand no further that evening; but the next morning it was again renewed, and in a more decided and threatening manner. A young Italian, named Raffaelli Settembruni, had shipped with the captain in Cadiz, and signed articles as a seaman. Up to that morning he had done his work with the rest of the crew. But when the assemblings waited upon the captain, he made his appearance in the uniform of a mate of one of the Ualway line of steamers—a bandsome blue frock, with gilt buttons, gold cap band, etc. This position he really hat held, but it temped on the was with gilt huttons, gold cap band, etc. This posi-tion he really had held; hut it turned ont he was the son of Lnigi Settembrini, who hearing of his father's conditional pardon, and of his destination, left for Spain, and resorted to the russ we have mentioned to join him. The captain of the ship believes that he was disnatched by the of the ship believes that he was dispatched by the Italian Society of London to aid the prisoners in the course they subsequently took. The exileastated that they had a navigator in their party, and that even if they had to take the ship ont of the bands of the captain and crew, they would be able to sail her without their as instance. They rapresented to the captain that sistance. They represented to the captain that they had been two months at sea, many of them being old, and all with constitutions more or less enfeebled by an imprisonment of ten years, so that a long voyage would be torture to them all, and death, perhaps, to some. They contended, also, that, being under the American play, they were free, and that they had no right to be taken anywhere bu where they chose. These arguments, backed up by the preponderance of physical force, the celles heing sixty-six, while the crew was but seventeen, and the manifest determination of the former to resort to extremities to carry out their intention, compelled the captain to yield, and turn the ressel's nead northward. They were temperate and polite m manner, but about their determination, there could be no mistake. They set a guard of threes or ours in turn, to keep watch over the compass, and see that the ship's head was kept in the direction of the haven they looked for. The weather was haf ing and the passage was tedions. The captain in tended making for Cork, hit missed the harbor in a fog, and had got as far as Ballycotton, hut having fallen in with a Cork pilot, beat back again, so that at length, after a voyage of 14 days, the ship anchored in the man-of-war roads. As fast as possible, the whole hand got themselves conversed whore to Queenstown and testified in the eved ashore to Queenstown, and testified in the most lively manner their joy at being at last as sured of freedom. The enthusiasm of some rose to such a pitch that they actually kissed the soil pon which they first planted foot as freemen some of them state that their sight has grown dim rom the length of time they have been in prison, from the length of time they have been in prison, and some seem to have grown rather prematurely gray; hut, as far as we are able to judge, there was not in their appearance anything to indicate their having endured peculiar hardships. During the voyage, Poerio, whose health has been greatly enfechied, used to get out of hed, and sit on deck for a couple of hours daily. On his arrival at Queenstown he caused himself to be removed to a private lodging. In appearance he is short, thick set, and rather good-looking. His age is fifty five. private lodging. The Opposition-What is it? Those who imagine that the present Opposi-tion party is a new thing under the sun are vastly mistaken. It is as old as the Democratie party. It would be tedious to trace it from its first appearance down to the present time, and te note all its gyrations, and to index the innumerable names which it has assumed, disgraced and discarded Suffice it to say, that the Opposition in the last fifty years has presented itself in every variety of names known in political menclature It is destructive of names, very. The first which it appropriated and disgraced was that of Federalist. Federalist, in the days of Washington, was the honorable title of a true patriot. The Opposition seeing its success and feeling its notency, appropriated it at the earliest possible moment. Before it had been in their possession long, the name of Federalist became a repreach, and a synonym of traitor. Until this day, that old and once honored appellation has not recovered from the disgrace attached to it, by its association with the "Opposition." After they had made the nane if "Federalist" a bye word, and a disgrace, they apprepriated every respectable name, until they exhausted the entire caleudar, and now as a last resort they are banded together under the general term "Opposition."

Opposition to what 9 Why to the Democracy, and, of course, opposition to the principles of the Democratic party. They are, then, opposed to the rights of the States to the rights of the South; to the doctrine of non-intervention, and, in short to every thing advocated by the National Domotratic party. Atraid to enuneiate any principles of their own, they content themselves with growling at ours. Kentucky and the Next Presidency. The press of Kentucky has spoken with si ngu iar unanimity in favor of the nomination of Hon. lames Guthrie for the next Presidency, and in so doing, it bas, we have every reason to believe, but re-echoed the voice of the Democratic masses .-There is no doubt but the popular heart beats responsive to the suggestion of the name of this pure and able statesman in connection with that high office, and the spontaneous movement in his favor in Kentucky, is warmly seconded in other States. Many of the best and most sagacious nen and politicians in the nation believe that Mr Guthrie combines elements of strength and popu arity in his person not equalled by any other pro minen: man in the Union, and that such is the confidence of the whole people in his integrity, ability, and firmness, that if nominated by the Charleston Convention, the tieket which he heads wonld be irresistible. While it must be conceded that this is the feel ing which has been produced by the mention of Mr. Guthrie's name, we regret to see that an attempt is made to weaken his position hy the inroduction of Hon. Jno. C. Breckinridge's name in connection with the same office. We regret it because Kentucky should be a unit in the expression of her preference, and because we believe that her wishes, vigorously enforced, would command great weight and influence in the Charleston Convention.

The Kentucky State Flag, a paper for whose opinions and views we have the highest respect, seems, in its last issue, to deprecate the expression of preference for Guthrie as unjust to Mr. Breckinridge, and regards it as an attempt "to horn off" that gentleman. Now, we presume that Mr. Breckinridge has not a more sincere friend or a more ardent admirer in the State than is, but we have always understood that he had declared most decidedly and emphatically that he did not wish his name to go before the Charleston convention. We know that such was his position even before Mr. Gathrie's name had been placed before the public, and we know that he has expressed the same feelings within the last month.

Illustrated Newspapers-It has often been said, and with great justice, that the American people never do anything that they don't overdo. We, as a people, seize upon a hobby and ride the poor thing to death. If we get hold of a good thing, we are sure to run it

THE VESPER GAS

AIR LIGHT. The Cheapest, most Brilliant, and most Convenient Artificial Light in the World. The Cheapest, most Brilliant, and mest Convenient Artificial Light in the World.

THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, safety and simplicity, far beyond any other artificial light. The Vesper Gas flame and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of coal gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gys. It requires no climney; there is no need of daily trimming of wick; and the construction of the fixtures is so simple that it is not liable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burnt in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other foreign ingredient. It is entirely free from odor while burning, as, by a simple contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere, producing perfect combustion and a most intense light. The light has been pronounced, by those who have had it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, the being no dickering or unsteadiness in the flame. The Vesper Gas light is portable, and can be used in town or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in styles to suit all tastes, from the plain single light burner to the most costiy chandelier. Each chandelier is perfect in liself; there is no outlay to be made for service pipes. They are sold at prices which do not exceed the cost of ordinary gas fixtures of similar styles and ornamentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application.

CHARLES FRODSHAM'S WATCHES. No. 9 Congress Street, Bost

Sole Agents in the United States of America of CHAS. FRODSHAM, S4 Strand, London, would respectfully give notice tnat, at the distribution of Prizes at the Great Paris Exhibition, 1855, the GRAND MEDAL OF HONOR Was awarded to Mr. Frodsham for the perfection of the principle, mechanism, and performance of the Chronom-eter Watches exhibited by him, and styled his "NFW

The critical notice accompanying the award, written by a distinguished French Savan, says: "Mr. Frodsham, therefore, has rendered eminent service to science; it is justice that he be rewarded for it, at least with the eulojustice that he be rewarded for it, at least with the culogium of public praise."

In the new series, Mr. Frodsham has succeeded by a more perfect method of compensation, a more correct adjustment in isocuronism, and in an entirely new and peculiar construction af the train, in producing watches nnaffected by changes of temperature, position or mountried scenracy.

At the London Exhibition of 1851, Mr. Fredsham's contribution was noticed as bearing the stamp of peculiar merit, and being the flower of the English school.—In recognition of the excellence of the principle of his time keepers, the British Government has awarded Mr. Fredsham the sum of £3,170.

Frodsham the sum of £3,170.

Mr. Frodsham, after a great number of experiments came to the conclusion that the only way to improve the watch was by adopting the proportions of the Mariae Chronometer, its tests and adjustments,—this Mr. Frodsham has dene in the watches of the New Seales, and has found that with strictly chronometrical proportions they are quite at variance with many of those of the best modern construction. Experience proves the New Seales Warches to be stronger, more powerful, and more accurate than any heretofore produced. The maniphistion or mechanical excellence of finish of the work, each Watch heing a model of perfection. The final adjustments of Compensation, isochronism, and Positions,—wherehy neither extremes of temperature, violent exercise, nor change of place, have any appreciable disturbing effect.

As a pecuriar advantage, there is no danger of stopping ander the most violent motion, either in the cara, on horseback, or in any vehicle.

In over one hundred instances these watches have stood the test of actual daily noting, and have exhibited as a result, a rate equal in regularity to the best marine Chronometers. In several instances, their performance at sea has been superior to the Chronometer. To those who reside on the line of railroads, or whose avocations taking them frequently in the cars, make a perfect timekeeper less of a luxury than a mecessity, these Watches are recommended with the most complete confidence.

Wm. Brown, Esq., a distinguished engineer of Ohio.

wm. Brown, Esq., a distinguished engineer of Ohio, writes of these watches: "Finally, from what I have known of Frodsham's Watches, I am strongly impressed with the idea that they are a decided improvement on all other time-pieces, and were they set in gimbals, and used with some care, I think their performance would equal that of Mr. Frodsham's celebrated Box Chronome er, and would answer the same purpose for determining Peland Retting the Bank-Upper Works SMASHED - We learn from the officers of the John Gault, which arrived yesterday, that the Poland, bound up Wabash, ran into the bank, and among the trees, at Little Blue river island, Friday night. She probably took a sheer on the pilot. The upper works were considerably damaged, the chimneys smashed, guards crushed, and the casing of one of the chimneys hanging to the limb of a tree, as a sort of landmark, to show she had a tree, as a sort of landmark, to show she had tried to go through by the overland route. She was under way, going ahead, when the Gault met her, having the standing slumps of her chim nevs, and damages repaired.

BOITMAN DROWNED.—Saturday night, just after the Die Vernon for St. Louis) had left the wharf, one of her crew, or a deck passenger, possibly, fell overboard and was drowned. His screams were beard on the river for nearly ten minutes, and the others of the Die Vernon promptly lowered the yawi to save him, but amid the dark-ness and confusion which ensued, the crew, unpulled the boat from the drowning man instead of towards him, and before they could get it round in the right direction, the poor fellow steriy exhausted and sunk to rise no nore. FALLS CITY WHITE LEAD.

We have not made any late changes in the manufacture of our white Lead, but continue to furnish the same, of the uniform and superior quality, which in an extensive consumption here and elsewhere, in house and steamboat painting, has been so universally and highly approved for DURABILITY, BEAUTY OF FINISH, ECONOMY OF USE, AND THE COMBINED QUALITIES which make a first rate paint. The large number of first-class steamers now running to this port, and which have been painted with this Lead, afford a sufficient test of the quality and durability of this article, and furnish the best evidence to consumers of satisfaction in the use of it.

OUR tobacco factory was very near being desiroyed by fire on the night of the 7th of January, on Main, near Ninth streets. The roof being partially burned, our boxes under press were removed in the street, and were partially damaged by the water and rough handling of the boxes. Mr. J. B. Arbitrators were mutually closen, tho damages satisfactorily arranged, and he has this day paid the damages in full, allowing claims for labor in protecting the house from the flames, and for removing the shock out and back into the house. And with promptness on the part of the agent, and on the part of the company in paying losses, I liope to see the Peoria office succeed to a good share of business in our city.

The Proria Marine and Firefinsurance Company.—It is with pride and pleasure that we ask the attention of our readers to the statement of this company in our columns this morning. It is the first detailed exhibit of the condition of any home company that we have ever seen, and compares most favorably with the statements of the best Eastern companies. Such an array of assets, amounting in all to $352,556 24, shows most conclusively that we have a company in our own State, as sound and as well managed as any other, no matter where located. As it regards its promptness and liberality in the settlement of its losses, no company has a better reputation. The Peorla Company is doing business in most of the Western and Southern States, lucluding Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Miscouri and Kentucky, where it is obliged to like an annual statement of its condition and to comply with the same laws that are required of all Eastern companies. The fact that the company can comply with the laws of those States, which are regarded as very onerous by many companies, shows that it has thenceessary capital, and as available assets as any other company, being subjected to the same provisions.

The Officers and Directors of this company are men of

MISCELLANEOUS.

Sterling Exchange firmer.

The Officers and Directors of this company are men of tried experience and unblemished integrity, and the success of the company proves that they have the requisite ability to macage the affairs of such an institution. One peculiar feature in this company, which places its stability and permanency beyond a doubt, is, that by provision of its charter, if by any means the capital of $300,000 should become impaired a single dollar, and should any policy be issued thereafter, the Directors render themselves personally liable for any loss that may occur.—As the Directors would not care to incur such a responsibility, and even if they did, as their aggregate wealth is quite large, the policy holders have an extra protection and safety by this provision of the Charter, which exists in but few if in any other company. Under the excellent supervision of J. Angustas Wright, its efficient and enterprising agent in this city, the company has done a large and very prosperous business the past season, and we trust and believe it will be still increased from year to year. We are decidedly in favor of patronizing our own companies when we know them to be sound and well managed like the "Peorla." We have had insurance in the Peorla Company for several years, so that we practice what we preach, and we cordially commend it to our friends and fellow-citizens generally. ions.
The Officers and Directors of this company are men of BOOKING'S Little Glant King of Tooth Ache. THIS preparation is warranted to be an Infallible Remedy for TOOTH ACHE, and one that will not injure the Teath. It has been used by regular prac-ticing Physicians and Dentists for a number of years who prondunce it one of the most valuable as well a perfect Chemical combinations ever produced.
